Masterclass speaker International Performance Coach
Russell Earnshaw

Russell's masterclass will offer an exploration of what 'talent' is and how we might best nurture and retain it through thinking more like coaches, how we might become more self-aware to help us lead in the future and how we could be talking more about care and love in our environments. All glued together by some simple nudges to help you think more creatively about solutions to your problems and ways of making behavioural change more 'sticky' with real practical examples from sport, education and business.

We invite you to bring the whole workforce team, Russ will have insight and inspiration for everyone.

Event tickets: £40+VAT
(event price includes 2 hour masterclass, drinks reception, buffet meal and after party).
